

LIGHTNING TALKS

27 February 2013
Mosher Alumni House

TOMMY DICKEY

Department of Geography
*Great Pyrenees Mountain Dogs and Mesoscale Ocean
Eddy Trackers: How Do They Do Their Jobs?*

MARY HEGARTY

Department of Psychological and Brain Sciences and spatial@ucsb
How I Became a Spatial Thinker

SONG GAO

Department of Geography and spatial@ucsb
Spatio-Temporal Patterns from Mobile Phone Data

JIM CAESAR

Department of Environmental Health and Safety
Emergency Preparedness

DON JANELLE

Department of Geography and spatial@ucsb
Convergent Places—Warped Spaces

RODRIGO BOMBARDI

Department of Geography
Relationships Between Precipitation over Eastern South America and the South Atlantic Sea Surface Temperature

SKONA BRITTAIN

SB Family School
Where in the World is Hunter SanCazador?

CHUCK CHAMPLIN

Office of Admissions
Twinkle: A Geometry of Meaning

GRANT MCKENZIE

Department of Geography
Airports: The Good, The Bad & The WTF

EMILY ELLIS

Department of Ecology, Evolution and Marine Biology
Can we use terrestrial biogeography to inform placement of MPA's?

JON JABLONSKI

Map and Imagery Laboratory
New in MIL: The Fairchild Aerial Surveys Collection

WILLIAM YIM

Independent consultant, airport and transportation planning
Airfield Design and Capacity

YINGJIE HU

Department of Geography
Citation Map: Visualizing the Spread of Scientific Ideas Through Space and Time

KITTY CURRIER

Department of Geography and spatial@ucsb
*Shipshaping and Fiafia
(or How I Became a Geographer)*